Yankee Doodle & Red Miley 53 Next Up for UFO Race Championship Tour!

The Unified Force Race Championship Tour presented by Comcast will roar back into action with 2 events in July. The 34th Annual "Yankee Doodle" will pay $7,000 to win for UFO Super Late Models on July 3 at the Central PA Speedway and the 2nd annual "Red Miley 53" will pay $5,300 to win on Sunday, July 13 at Pittsburgh's PA Motor Speedway.

Excitement is building for the prestigious "Yankee Doodle" presented by CNB Bank and the Navasky Foundation for Life at the Central PA Speedway on Thursday, July 3. A record $7,000 will be paid to the winner of the "Area 51"-lap feature event. The new ownership and management of the speedway has also increased payoff for all feature positions for this event. The feature event will start 28 cars including 2 UFO and 2 track provisionals. The Pro-Street Stocks will compete in their 3rd race of the 4-race "Street Stock Shoot-Out Series" with $1,000 going to the winner.

The "Yankee Doodle" will mark the 2nd appearance of the UFO Super Late Models in 2008. John Flinner of Zelienople, PA won the first event after starting 24th on the grid. Much effort has been concentrated on the track surface in the recent month, with excellent results for the recent Outlaw Sprint race. The "Yankee Doodle" is the highest paying event in the area during the holiday weekend, so a strong field of drivers is expected. The rain date for the "Yankee Doodle" is Friday, July 4.

Event activities and promotions include a pre-race concert by Generation Z at 4:30 and an appearance by Miss Central PA Speedway prior to the event. The Navasky Foundation, which raises funds to assist families that are battling cancer as well as cancer research, will be distributing a free "One Less Tear" cd to all fans in attendance. More information on this project may be found at <http://www.navaskyfoundation.com> or <http://www.onelesstear.com>.

The Semi-Lates & B-Cadets will use the combined special rules package that allows virtually all area cars in those classes to be legal with weight and spoiler variances for different motor types.
